Product name: Freeze Dried Yam

Freeze Dried Yam Description:

Freeze dried yams are made from high-quality, freshly harvested mature yams, which are cleaned, trimmed, precision cut and the most advanced vacuum freeze-drying technology is used. After the final drying step and before packaging, the product will also be inspected and passed through magnets, metal detectors and X-ray inspectors to remove ferrous and non-ferrous metal contaminants. Do not add any preservatives, artificial colors, nitrite, and guarantee to provide customers with 100% assured freeze dried food.

Our freeze dried yam is a low-fat, vitamin-rich, dietary fiber food, which contains amylase and polyphenol oxidase, which is beneficial to the digestion and absorption of the spleen and stomach. It also contains mucus protein, which has the effect of lowering blood sugar. It is a good food therapy for diabetic patients.

Freeze dried yam can be used to make yam porridge. The glutinous rice and yam are filled with water at a ratio of 2:1, and a little green onion and salt are added before the pot. The delicious yam porridge will definitely bring you a wonderful taste buds.
