Product name: Freeze Dried Papaya Powder

Freeze Dried Papaya Powder Description:

Papaya is a tropical fruit with a unique and exotic fragrance, mild and refreshing, with a sweet summer flavor. The raw materials of our freeze-dried papaya powder have been screened by experienced fruit growers, and advanced vacuum freeze-drying technology is used to lock the full nutritional value of papaya. We guarantee that we will not add pigments and any chemical additives.

Freeze-dried papaya powder contains high levels of antioxidants vitamin A, vitamin C and vitamins. It is rich in natural dietary fiber, antioxidants and β-carotene. It is great for balancing the oiliness of the skin and used as an exfoliant on dry areas.

You can use our freeze-dried papaya powder in skin care products to rejuvenate your skin and help smooth and soften your skin. When using freeze dried papaya powder to make a facial mask, first use warm water to make 5-10 grams of powder into a paste, and apply it directly on the face. After at least half an hour, wash it off with facial cleanser or shower gel, because it contains a lot of papaya fruit Glue cannot be cleaned with water alone. Very few people have skin allergies to papain, just stop using it, or try it on a small area before making a mask.
